

star beauty

Carmen loved both looks but told CL that her husband, rocker Dave Navarro, prefers her hair to look natural—straight and parted down the middle.

Carmen & Ken!

Carmen's mane man, Ken Pavés, tends to her tresses at an L.A. photo shoot. The shoot, which lasted two hours, garnered these pics (left and right); they will serve as Carmen's new head shots!

CL Sneaks a Peek at Carmen's Hot New Hollywood Head Shots!

Carmen Cha

Get her sexy '70s look!

Ken's Tips:

- Work a few drops of shine serum into dry hair with fingers, then brush through with a natural-bristle brush.
- Flat-iron hair in small sections at a time, working from roots to ends all over head.
- If desired, clip in 18-inch hair extensions (Pavés used Put on Pieces Human Hair Extensions, available at hairuwear.com) at nape and sides to give extra length.

Pavés Professional FlawLess Shine Serum, $6, walgreens.com

Wigo Damp or Dry Ceramic Flat Iron, $50, folica.com

Mason Pearson Pure Bristle Pocket Brush, $66, Sephora stores

Celebrity Living weekly
February 6, 2006
Circulation: 600,000

Kaplow
communications, inc.

