

As seen in REDBOOK "Star Cut" (April 2005)

If your hair is wavy...

long

long

EVA LONGORIA

medium

▲ Long

Who can wear it: Any face shape, though only fine to medium hair can look this sleek.

Ask your stylist for: A one-length cut with face-framing layers. Star tip: Get long locks fast with extensions (try easihair easiXtend clip-on hair, $300). Pricy, yes, but a quick fix on a bad-hair day.

Maintenance level: Moderate. Trim ends every six to eight weeks and protect from heat damage (try Umberto Beverly Hills Controller Conditioning Spray Leave-in Conditioner, $8.99). Blow-dry and straighten with a flat iron.

◀ Medium

Who can wear it: "Side-swept bangs give width to a narrow or oval face," says Rosenberg.

Ask your stylist for: Long layers and eyebrow-grazing bangs.

Maintenance level: Moderate. Trim bangs every four weeks; trim the rest at week six. To keep hair sleek, try VO5 Smoothing Soufflé Frizz Defense Crème, $3.50.

◀ Short

Who can wear it: "It works best for someone with thick hair and a long or oval-shape face," says Möller.

Ask your stylist for: Short, choppy layers.

Maintenance level: Moderate. Trim every four to six weeks. Prep with mousse (try Marlies Möller Styling Foam, $18), and to add texture, we like Dove Defined Texture Molding Cream, $4.

SHARON STONE

short

NAOMI WATTS

medium

▲ Long

Who can wear it: Long, natural waves are a flattering look for an angular or square-shape face, says Kusakabe.

Ask your stylist for: Long, light layers so hair doesn't look or feel too heavy.

Maintenance level: Low. Trim every six to eight weeks. Get fullness with a body-building foam (try Finesse Beautiful Volumizing Mousse, $3). Dry with a diffuser.

◀ Medium

Who can wear it: "This simple cut flatters everyone," says Rosenberg.

Ask your stylist for: A shoulder-length cut with long layers to enhance natural wave.

Maintenance level: Low. Trim every six to eight weeks. Apply mousse, like Paul Mitchell Sculpting Foam, $7.50, to damp hair, and either let hair air-dry, or dry with a diffuser.

◀ Short

Who can wear it: Cut short and layered, wavy hair makes for great, natural texture that softens a square jawline, says Kusakabe.

Ask your stylist for: A chin-length bob with layers at the crown and ends, bangs, angled toward one side.

Maintenance level: Moderate. Trim every four to six weeks. Blow-dry with a round brush, flipping the ends outward. Finish with styling wax (try Artec Kiwi Burst Wet Wax, $14).

MARTINA MCBRIDE

short